

Privacy Policy

Effective April 25, 2024

North Dakota Grain Inspection (NDGI) values its users' privacy. Our Policy has been designed and created to ensure any person or persons affiliated with North Dakota Grain Inspection, both internal and external, of our commitment and realization of our obligation not only to meet, but to exceed, most existing privacy standards. We may update this Policy occasionally, so please review it periodically for any changes.

This Policy applies to North Dakota Grain Inspection and governs all data collection and usage by us through our website, as well as general data collected from other NDGI programs (i.e., Clerk SMS). Using <https://graininspection.com> or any NDGI programs, you are therefore consenting to the data collection procedures expressed in this Policy. Please note that this Policy does not govern the collection and use of information by companies that North Dakota Grain Inspection does not control, nor by individuals not employed or managed by us. If you visit a website that we mention or link to, be sure to review its privacy policy before providing the site with information. It is highly recommended and suggested that you review the privacy policy and statements of any website you choose to use or frequent to better understand the way in which websites garner, make use of, and share the information collected. NDGI does not accept responsibility for the privacy policies of other linked websites. This Policy applies solely to information collected by us or our website.

Our website automatically collects various information types, such as cookies, third-party tracking technologies, and server logs. Additionally, we may collect non-personal anonymous demographic information to improve our services.

We collect data for several purposes, including but not limited to:

- Understanding user needs and providing requested services
- Pre employment applications
- Fulfilling our legitimate interest in service improvement
- Sending emails or text messages with relevant information when consent is given
- Contacting users for surveys or market research with consent

We retain personal data only as long as necessary and as required by law. NDGI does not and will not sell, rent, or lease customer lists or names to third parties. NDGI collects and utilizes personal information to ensure the smooth operation of our business and to provide the services you request. North Dakota Grain Inspection uses various third-party social media features, and other interactive programs. These may collect your IP address and require cookies to work properly. These services are governed by the privacy policies of those providers and are not within North Dakota Grain Inspection's control.

North Dakota Grain Inspection will not use or disclose the information provided by you except under the following circumstances:

- as necessary to provide services or products you have ordered;
- in other ways described in this Policy or to which you have otherwise consented;
- as required by law, or in response to a subpoena or search warrant;
- to outside auditors who have agreed to keep the information confidential;
- as necessary to enforce the Terms of Service;
- as necessary to maintain, safeguard and preserve all the rights and property of North Dakota Grain Inspection.

Our website does not knowingly collect personal identifiable information from children under 13. If such information is collected inadvertently, steps will be taken to delete it or obtain verifiable parental consent. Users can unsubscribe from communications by emailing ndgi@graininspection.com or following unsubscribe instructions on third-party websites. By providing information to us, you consent to its storage and use as described in this Policy. We take precautions to protect your information both online and offline, using encryption and limiting access to personally identifiable information. By using our website, you agree to the terms outlined in this Privacy Policy Agreement. Continued use after updates or changes means acceptance of those changes. If you have questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy Agreement, please contact us at ndgi@graininspection.com.
